Nation-Wide Round-Up Of Oil Stock Swindlers Starts

Tammany Hall May Lead Fight For Wet Plank At Frisco

SANFRANCISCO, June 24.—Preliminaries to the Democratic national convention got into the inevitable period of hurry and flurry today with the appearance of one after another of the men who are to play leading parts in the big quadrennial drama.

In the whisperings behind the scenes, the question of the party's policy toward bone dry prohibition continued the big theme of agitation, with prospects for a fight on the convention floor growing better and better. Arriving leaders and delegates added some impetus to the discussion of presidential candidates, but that subject still remained well in the background.

Two figures newly arrived on the scene attracted particular attention. One was Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, fresh from Washington and generally reported to have brought President Wilson's own draft of the platform.

The other was Charles F. Murphy of New York, the leader of Tammany Hall, who came direct from the widely heralded conference of old-line party strategists at French Lick, Ind.

Both of them were as busy as beavers but as silent and busy as mice. Privately they took careful stock of the situation and conferred earnestly with other leaders from far and wide. Publicly they refused to talk politics, online what they hoped to accomplish or predict what the convention finally would bring forth.

Mr. Murphy was the new center of speculation on the subject of prohibition. The declaration of the New York state convention for repeal of the eighteenth amendment and widely circulated reports of the patching of an anti-bone dry plan at French Lick, helped to bolster the impression among many delegates that Tammany would lead in the effort to write such a plank into the platform.

Not only the Tammany chief, but all of his lieutenants refused steadfastly to discuss the subject or to say whether any anti-prohibition movement had been launched at the French Lick conference. Thomas Taggart of Indiana, another principal in the conference, was expected to arrive later today or early tomorrow but it generally was predicted that the lines of division on the prohibition issue would not develop fully until the convention actually gets under way on Monday.

One element which tended to keep the problem in flux was the uncertainty of many in regard to the position of President Wilson. The Virginia state platform, which has been given the president's unqualified approval and on which the national platform is expected to be modelled is silent on the subject. Some of Mr. Wilson's closest political friends in the administration however are known to have predicted a liberalization plank for which they are ready to make fight in the convention.

The plank said to have been drafted at the conference in Washington does not mention beer or wines but has a quieting effect. Only occasional shots were heard after midnight this morning. Two shots have been arrested by the soldiers.

Besides actually attacking the Sinn Feiners with armored cars and machine guns, the troops have done much rescue work. When it was reported last night that the Sinn Feiners were about to attack a cluster of houses, armored cars were rushed to the scene and the troops rescued terrified women and children to a section of town where nationalists predominate. The gas works have also been protected by armed men.

Aside from an occasional shot by a sniper, there was no firing up to early this afternoon.

The gas supply ceased at 5 o'clock this morning and the inhabitants in some sections were left in a serious plight, without fuel, light or bread.

Portions of the outlying districts are being patrolled by Ulster volunteers while nationalist volunteers are guarding their sections. Many additional wounded reached the hospitals during the night.

Wire barricades and trees have been thrown across the main road to Londonderry by barricade, apparently in an effort to hamper the troops. Some record against recognition of the Russian Soviet government and endorsed the work of the Travellers Aid Society.

The convention also sanctioned rivereshire for sweeping the streets in and harbor improvements as the best means of relieving freight congestion.

in the civil war which began last Friday between unionist and nationalist forces.

HOW WILSON LOOKS TODAY

President Wilson at his desk.

This photograph of President Wilson was taken by George W. Harris, one of the heads of the noted Washington picture syndicate, while the president was transacting his regular morning work, on June 19. It is, therefore, the latest picture of the chief executive. Mr. Harris says of his hour visit with the president: "He looks fine, better than I expected."

BRITISH TROOPS CONTROL LONDONDERRY AFTER NIGHT OF VIOLENT GUN FIGHTING

LONDONDERRY, June 24.—More British troops have arrived in this city and their greater activity in efforts to protect life and property has had a quieting effect. Only occasional shots were heard after midnight this morning. Two shots have been arrested by the soldiers.

Besides actually attacking the Sinn Feiners with armored cars and machine guns, the troops have done much rescue work. When it was reported last night that the Sinn Feiners were about to attack a cluster of houses, armored cars were rushed to the scene and the troops rescued terrified women and children to a section of town where nationalists predominate. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—Reports from San Francisco that President Wilson would address the Democratic national convention on the long distance telephone, were denied today at the White House.

G. O. P. STATE CONVENTION NEXT WEEK

COLUMBUS, O., June 24.—Plans had been completed today for the Republican state convention, to be held here next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Programs were in the mulls.

The first session will begin at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, eastern time, and will consist largely of routine business. The keynote address will be delivered by A. H. Johnson, of Ironton, temporary chairman.

The address is expected to deal with state and national issues.

The Republican rally, at which Senator Hartigan's victory at Chicago will be celebrated, is to be held Tuesday night. Wednesday's session will be devoted to adoption of the platform and selection of presidential electors.

HELPED THEMSELVES TO TOWN

CADIZ, O., June 24.—Police of Cadiz and Eastern Ohio today were searching for robbers, who early yesterday looted three business places at Hopedale, near here and escaped. Chlorine Gas Robs Thousands Of New Yorkers of Night's Sleep

NEW YORK, June 24.—Thousands of persons living on the East Side, spent a sleepless night on the stoops of their homes and along the curbs, unable to retire for fear of being overcome by chlorine gas that escaped from a defective carboy in a chemical plant.

Deputy Fire Chief Henry B. Hines and four members of the rescue squad who plugged the leaking cylinder, were overcome by the deadly vapor and are in a hospital.

Attention was first attracted to the leaking carboy when scores of people began crowding into the streets coughing and sneezing. Firemen visited all tenement houses in the district but no one was found seriously affected by the vapor which hung low over the streets throughout the night and today.

WAGE BOARD DIVIDED THREE WAYS ON AWARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—President Wilson has received a reply from the railroad labor board in Chicago promising to expedite the award in the railroad wage controversy. The message was in reply to one sent by the president.

CHICAGO, June 24.—A well-confirmed report in circulation in labor circles to day said the railway labor board was divided three ways on the wage controversy. The labor group holding out for an award which both the company and public representatives thought exorbitant and the company group refusing to concede an award that the public group held reasonable.

While conceding that each group holds its own ideas and that there is naturally a wide divergence of opinion, George W. Hanger, member of the board representing the public declared today that there was nothing in the present situation to warrant the assumption that a satisfactory agreement would not be reached within a reasonable length of time.

Union leaders here, however, were not so optimistic. The brotherhood which adopted a stand of passive neutrality when the board was created, and later became openly hostile when the decision was delayed, declared they believed the board would be wrecked on the same deadlock that ended President Wilson's attempt to settle the railroad problem last winter through another tripartite organization.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 24.—A strike have reached the anthracite coal regions and it was said today that both production and shipments of coal would be at a standstill unless there is decided improvement in the situation. Reports from Pottsville and Reading said large numbers of Reading railway men have joined the walkout. Harrisburg, Tamaqua and other upstate points also reported accessions to the strikers' ranks.

Strike leaders here continued today to claim all three lines entering Philadelphia were effectively tied up so far as the movement of freight was concerned.

Facts for Sick Women

Reliable Information

All American women know of the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in restoring to health women who suffered from ailments peculiar to their sex, yet there are some who are skeptical and do not realize that all that is claimed for it is absolutely true—if they did, our laboratory would not be half large enough to supply the demand, though today it is the largest in the country used for the manufacture of one particular medicine.

The facts contained in the following two letters should prove of benefit to many women:

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I suffered with organic inflammation and dispepsia. When lifting I had such pain and bearing down that I was not able to stand up and it hurt me to walk. I was unable to work. I was told to go to a doctor without any results and he said the safest thing would be to have an operation. I met a lady who told me she had three operations and was not well until she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had a doctor take two bottles of Vegetable Compound and I kept on with it until I was cured. I always use Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and they are fine. Everything used to taste sour to my stomach, but now it is not with that."—Mrs. A. Morris, 402 Fargo Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Piano and Violin Recital given by two attractive young artists, Mrs. J. Vaughn Fluey and Miss Ruth E. Johnson, on Wednesday evening, at the Knights of Pythias Hall, was a delight to their many friends. The large room was made ready for the entertainment with palms and baskets of red and white roses, with a large basket of pink Killarney roses tied with pink ribbon, gracing the piano.

Miss Helen Quan and Mary Frances Crawford, sisters of the hostesses, distributed the programs, while Messrs. J. Vaughn Fluey and William Quan cordially acted as ushers.

The excellent numbers making up the program gave evidence of an artist's choice. From the first piano number of Mrs. Fluey's to the last, she displayed wonderful technique, and excelled in the ones which required dexterity of touch. Her fine sustained tones were evident throughout the evening. Mrs. Fluey graciously responded to two encores which were evoked from some of the favorite numbers, one being the "Juba Dance" by H. Nathaniel Dett, which made the scenes and moods, peculiar to negro life in the South, very realistic.

Graceful bowing and a truly artistic interpretation, marked the excellent violin numbers given by Miss Crawford, with piano accompaniment by her mother, Mrs. Samuel R. Crawford. Her numbers were selected from the favorite classics, and a fine, mutual interpretation was evident to the audience, the skillful renditions being a pleasure to her many admirers. Miss Crawford responded to two encores which were elicited by the spontaneous appreciation of her audience.

Their many friends and admirers could only show their appreciation by their hearty applause for this delightful evening. The program is as follows:

Miss Crawford received her initial instruction under the late Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Hard and finished at the College of Music, where her instruction came from Emil Heerman, who is famous as concert master of the Cincinnati Symphony.

Mrs. Fluey, who was a student at Oberlin and Ohio Wesleyan universities, received instruction the past year from Sigmund Stolowski of New York City, a pupil of Paderewski.

Mrs. C. H. Smith and daughter, Eliza, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson and son Charles of 1522 Twelfth street have returned from Mt. Joy, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Reynolds. While there they enjoyed a chicken dinner and picked five gallons of cherries, as fine as ever been seen here.

Events testifies to the truth. The bride was becomingly attired in her traveling suit of stylish green check with hat and accessories to harmonize. A corsage bouquet of sweet peas and rosebuds finished her toilet. Miss Alice Bishop was attired in the same fashion, with blue suit and hat and corsage bouquet.

After the ceremony the bridal party was driven to the Washington Hotel, where a wedding dinner was served. Miss Alice Bishop being the only out-of-town guest.

The bride and groom left this morning on a honeymoon trip to Detroit and other points of interest, after which they will go to Indianapolis, where they will make their future home.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Forrest, 1211 Park avenue, and has been a strong member in the office of Johnson Bros. automobile dealers, on Chillicothe street.

Mr. Stolowski is a splendid young man and travels for the W. A. Hambleton Company of Indianapolis, O., with headquarters at Indianapolis.

A BRENTWOOD PRODUCTION
ROBERTSON-COLE

ZaSu Pitts, the Jazz Kid, and the Most Original Comedienne of the Screen Is At The Exhibit Theatre Tonight in "Bright Skies," A Whimsical Tale of Love and Laughter—Also Other Attractions

"Bright Skies," the very latest Brentwood production featuring the inimitable ZaSu Pitts, known better on the screen as the Jazz Kid will be the good photoplay attraction at the Exhibit tonight.

True, there is a silver lining behind each and every cloud.

Sometimes it may be nearly obscured by the denseness of the cloud, but still it's there—to be seen only by those who care to see.

Bright Skies are for those who love and those who see the light of happiness.

ZaSu Pitts, in this unique drama of love and good cheer, finds the silver lining of happiness and contentment behind her clouded life of sorrow and loneliness.

"Bright Skies" is, without a doubt, the cleanest and wholesome picture it has ever been our pleasure to present.

There is nothing in the picture to offend anyone and it will appeal to all ages, both children and grownups.

Make it your object to see this picture.

Herbert Rawlinson will be the added feature in another of the thrilling Wm. J. Flynn pictures. Our admission prices will remain the same for this engagement.

Tammany May Lead Fight For Wet Plank

It is expected that a strong effort will be made by supporters of the proposal to throw the influence of the administration behind it.

Many of the party leaders including Homer S. Cummings, the national chairman, reiterated confidence that the other platform plank would lead to a fight on the convention floor. The League of nations declaration, as framed by administration supporters, was declared by these leaders to be certain of acceptance after only a nominal squabble in the platform committee.

Senator Glass' first conference after his arrival here late yesterday was with Chairman Cummings. They had dinner together in the chairman's hotel room and afterward spent most of the evening in consultation.

William Jennings Bryan who is expected to lead the attack on such a treaty plank as well as the fight against a prohibition liberalization declaration still was missing today from the constellation of leaders here. He will arrive late in the week, and no one here pretended to know exactly what plan of campaign he may contemplate.

Word of Mr. Bryan's announcement at Helena, Mont., last night that he would support Senator Walsh, of that state for permanent chairman of the convention came as a surprise to most of the party chiefs here and started speculation as to how far the Nebraskans might go in an effort to overturn the plans of the administration forces. Secretary Colby, of the state department, Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, and Chairman Cummings have been mentioned by administration supporters for the permanent chairmanship but it was said today there had been no decision.

The suggestion that Mr. Cummings, who will be temporary chairman, be confirmed as presiding officer, was put forward today as a means of shortening the convention proceedings by dispensing with the formalities of a second convention organization. Mr. Cummings said, however, that personally he did not favor the plan and hoped some one else would be given the permanent chairmanship.

Physical preparations at the convention hall were completed with the perfection of a system of electrical megaphones to carry the voices of speakers out to the corners of the big enclosure. Installation of the paraphernalia started a report that President Wilson expected to address the delegates by long distance telephone. But Chairman Cummings said if there were any such intention he was not aware of it.

One hitch in the arrangement remaining to be eliminated had to do with the seating of state delegations, which exceed in number the national committee's allotment.

In several states two or three times the allotted number of delegates were selected, with the intention that each should have a fraction of a vote. Convention officials say every effort would be made to arrange for seats for all such delegates, though some of them might have to sit in the visitors' section.

Mrs. J. M. CRAIG, of Los Angeles, Calif., who says no one can feel more grateful for what Tamie has done than she does. Decades she has gained twelve pounds and her health is now better than in years.

"Of all the people who have taken Tamie, I don't believe there is anyone who feels any more grateful to it than I do," was the statement made recently by Mrs. J. M. Craig, of 674½ East Fortieth street, Los Angeles.

Like so many other families during the influenza epidemic last year we all had it, and my own illness, together with the worry over the rest of our family, brought on a case of genuine nervous prostration.

"I was so weak I couldn't even sweep the floor, and during the day I would have to lie down four or five times. I tried to walk but found out half a block was all I could stand before I gave out. Nervous spells came on me often.

"Every medicine I tried failed to much my case until finally my husband urged me to try Tamie, and I am indeed thankful that he did, for it proved to be just what I needed.

"The first two bottles didn't seem to help me. I guess that was because I was so extremely half off, but on the third bottle I could tell I was improving and that gave me more hopes than ever of getting well.

"My improvement from then on was rapid and by the time I had taken five bottles of Tamie I was better and stronger than I had been in years. I was sleeping soundly at night and had gained twelve pounds in weight. That was several months ago and from then until now I have been in as good health as I ever was in my life and have been doing all the house work by myself.

"It is simply remarkable how Tamie has built me up and I have told everyone of my friends and relatives what a wonderful medicine it is."

Tamie is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Stretch Pharmacy and the leading druggists in every town.

British Troops Control Town

The number of killed and injured during the day had not been determined as it has been impossible to reach the scene of the terrible pitched battles in Bishop, Cross and Bond streets. It is believed, however, that there were scores of victims. Hospitals are being taxed to their capacity in caring for those struck down by bullets fired by the opposing factions.

LONDON, June 24.—Sir Hamer Gunwood, chief secretary for Ireland, today received another urgent telegram from the Londonderry magistrates expressing their alarm that no action was being taken by the government in response to the appeal they made early in the fighting in that city between unionists and nationalists.

"They consider the situation and fear it will become worse. The message adds that food supplies are running out and the gas supply for the city is almost exhausted.

BELFAST, June 24.—Two more deaths have occurred as a result of the fighting at Londonderry bringing the total number of dead up to 11. A woman named Mills was killed last night while standing in her own doorway, and William Rankin succumbed to wounds inflicted by British snipers who fired upon him while he was on his way to feed horses.

Miss Lula Hermit has gone to New York, Ky., for a few weeks' visit to relatives and friends.

Mrs. Lena Kline Hermit will give several readings at the Community Daily Vacation Bible school at the First Presbyterian church Friday morning. This arrangement will be pleasing news to the children and teachers as well as Mrs. Hermit as a favorite with the children and always has a store of interesting readings that charm her listeners both young and old. Parents are especially invited to pay the school a visit and share some of the good times they are having and inspect the interesting work in which they are engaged.

Arrangements and decorations of charming simplicity marked another pretty home wedding when Miss Jessie R. Smith and Mr. Fred A. Stake were married in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. F. J. Smith, 110 Fifth street, Thursday afternoon at half after four. Rev. Samuel Lindemann of the First Evangelical church conducted the unpretentious wedding service, the witness to the happy event being only the members of the two families.

Bound to Make Good on Your Car

FIVE navies use Gould Storage Batteries for the same enduring qualities of Dreadnaught Plates that give power and long life to the Gould Starting Battery.

Hard plates, that hold the active material firmly, outlast soft plates, but only in the Dreadnaught Plates is this rugged hardness combined with high power delivery.

This durability is the result of direct control of all the factors of manufacturing— even to the production of the vitally important lead-oxide. Such care is found only in the Gould plant.

Lowden Funds May Cause Overthrow Of Missouri Chiefs

SELDOM, Mo., June 24.—Republicans from throughout Missouri met here today to consider whether any action should be taken against state party leaders, who were involved in the distribution of $25,000 of Lowell Lowden's campaign funds in Missouri. The meeting was called by J. E. Cole, chairman of the state committee, and W. L. Cole, of Unionville, chairman of the Republicans of Maryville, received part of the campaign funds some candidates.

Hiram Johnson Says People Shall Eventually Rule

SACRAMENTO, CAL., June 24.—Speaking publicly for the first time since the Republican convention in Chicago, Senator Hiram W. Johnson today told a few hundred of his home town people, who greeted him at the Southern Pacific depot that he was not downcast over the result.

Senator Johnson was on route to his home in San Francisco. In response to the enthusiastic reception given him and the cries of "Speech," Senator Johnson told the crowd how glad he was that California, and particularly his home city, had given him such a big vote at the primary presidential election.

"Don't imagine I'm cast down by the result of the convention," he said. "I'm happier than ever before. I started the campaign on a shoe string and when I got through I had the people of the United States with me, even though I could not win the majority of the delegates."

He added: "To be frank with you, I never doubted what the Nebraska delegation would do, but I knew you were exerting yourself to the utmost to prevent the betrayal."

YOUR STOMACH CAUSES UGLY SKIN ERUPTIONS

Rev. C. A. Hughes, pastor of the M. E. church, has gone to Berea to take a three weeks course of special training for ministers at the Baldwin-Wallace college.

Mrs. Malissa Shuman of Gallia avenue, who has been ill sometime is slightly improved.

The lives of two popular young people of the village were united Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Miss Leona Hart became the bride of Mr. George Remondes, the ceremony being performed at the First Christian church parsonage, Portsmouth, by Rev. Chas. R. Oakley, the impressive ring service being used.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hart, parents of the bride were the attendants.

The bride wore a frock of blue lace, a large georgette hat of the same shade and carried a bouquet of pink roses. After the ceremony the happy couple left on the 145 train for a week's trip to Columbus, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hart of Ohio avenue, has taught for a number of terms in the Stanion avenue school and during that time has made a number of friends by her congenial manner.

The groom, a promising young man of splendid personalities, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Remondes, who reside near Zanesville, and is proprietor of the Remondes' grocery store, located on Rhodes and Ohio avenue.

After a week's honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Remondes will make their home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hart, of Ohio avenue.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will give a social, Saturday afternoon and evening, June 26, on the church lawn. At this time

Lorraine bread, cake, pies and a number of other dainties and also useful hand-made articles will be on sale.

A large crowd is expected to attend the sale.

The W. O. W. will hold their regular meeting this evening in their hall on Gellin avenue. All members are urgently requested to be present.

Harold and Richard, two sons of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sonnes of Pine street are suffering with whooping cough.

Mrs. Mary Skelton of Portsmouth spent yesterday with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Skelton of Pine street and also her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Fidler and family, of Gallia avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George McManes and family have moved from Ohio avenue to the Jas. McManes farm on Hartville pike near here.

Mrs. Hello Griffin of Long Run was the guest today of Mrs. Hello Robinson of Ohio avenue.

To Hold Picnic

A Fourth of July picnic will be held Saturday, July 3, at Chas. Taylor's Woods, on camp pike, two miles from the mouth of Bear Creek and one mile from Coopersville. Platform dancing will feature the day. The picnic will be managed by Edward Taylor.

SHE IS WELFARE DIRECTOR FOR U. S.

Mrs. Olive Ross, formerly of Louisville, Ky., has been made director of welfare service in the war department. It is her duty to look after the housing, health, recreation and general welfare of the civilian employees of the department. Her main concern at the time is to find employment for the hundreds who are being dropped from the payroll in the general curtailment of expenses.

YOUR EYES IN YEARS TO COME

They are going to be to a large extent the result of how well or ill you care for them now. By your failure to assist them with glasses, presuming that they need assistance, and it is likely that they do, you are practising the same sort of carelessness as when you neglect your teeth. With glasses eye strain is removed, nerves are steadier, headaches are relieved and this good is felt almost at once. Glad to give you every possible assistance.

Workman Falls To Death While Working On Church

Injuries sustained in a 35 foot fall church. Hutchins street, near Eleventh. Wednesday afternoon about four o'clock, resulted in the death of Frank Massie, colored, in Hospital hospital, fifteen minutes later.

He suffered a fractured skull and fractures of the left arm and leg and internal injuries. Massie was rushed to Hospital Hospital in Lynn ambulance and there Dr. Oscar McKeethan, Dr. J. D. Jordan and Dr. J. N. Ellison attended him, but his injuries were so serious that medical aid could not stay the hand of death.

Rev. J. N. Kayet and others working on the church did not see the man fall, their attention being attracted by the crash of boards caused by the scaffold boards breaking. It is thought that Massie fell against one of the uprights of the scaffolding causing it to break off. Fellow workers hurried to the ground and found

Massie a heap, unconscious. He fell on his left side. At the hospital the physicians found that the skull had been fractured and the brain injured on the left side. Internal injuries and internal hemorrhages hastened death.

The accident victim had been employed as laborer on the church work for about three weeks, and prior to that time worked at the steel plant. He had been carrying bricks to the high scaffold Wednesday. Massie is survived by a wife and a young son.

The body was removed Wednesday evening from Hospital Hospital to Windle's morgue, where it was prepared for burial.

The body was removed Wednesday evening from Hospital Hospital to Windle's morgue, where it was prepared for burial.

He suffered a fractured skull and fractures of the left arm and leg and internal injuries. Massie was rushed to Hospital Hospital in Lynn ambulance and there Dr. Oscar McKeethan, Dr. J. D. Jordan and Dr. J. N. Ellison attended him, but his injuries were so serious that medical aid could not stay the hand of death.

Rev. J. N. Kayet and others working on the church did not see the man fall, their attention being attracted by the crash of boards caused by the scaffold boards breaking. It is thought that Massie fell against one of the uprights of the scaffolding causing it to break off. Fellow workers hurried to the ground and found

Massie a heap, unconscious. He fell on his left side. At the hospital the physicians found that the skull had been fractured and the brain injured on the left side. Internal injuries and internal hemorrhages hastened death.

The accident victim had been employed as laborer on the church work for about three weeks, and prior to that time worked at the steel plant. He had been carrying bricks to the high scaffold Wednesday. Massie is survived by a wife and a young son.

JURY HAS CASE

The case of the John H. McGowan company against the City of Portsmouth which went to the jury Wednesday afternoon is still in their hands. When court adjourned last night Judge Stephenson referred the jury of further consideration of the case for the day and sent them home until 9 o'clock this morning when they resumed their deliberations.

The McGowan company sued to recover approximately $40,000 on a claim for damages and costs in connection with its waterworks contract which the city disputed on the ground of alleged defects in the machinery furnished by the plaintiff.

The case has been long drawn out, the trial lasting over a week owing to the many complicated issues raised by the pleadings and the volume of evidence adduced by both sides.

Attorneys House, Knight and Phares

Cincinnati and Miller & Scott for the plaintiff opposed by Attorneys E. G.

Miller, Will J. Meyer and Solicitor S.

Austin Shelton for the city.

ers, R. B. Lukemire of this city and W. H. Lukemire of Batavia.

Mrs. Lancaster possessed a cheerful and loving disposition and was deeply interested in the church, being an active member of all societies of Trinity church. She was a loyal supporter of the W. C. T. U. and a helper to the poor and needy. She was the efficient president of Mrs. J. P. Smith's Bible class of Trinity church and was on fine Sunday morning to extend a hand of welcome to each member and visitor. Her life was one of a true Christian. Her faithful service will continue to be an inspiration to this class.

The funeral services will be held at the residence, 1323 Eleventh street, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the last rites to be conducted by Rev. N.

E. Butler of Trinity church. Interment will be in the mausoleum in Greenlawn.

George Adkins Funeral

The funeral of George Adkins, who died at Hempstead hospital, Wednesday morning of paralysis was held this Thursday afternoon from the home of A. T. Littlejohn, 1405 Franklin avenue, at 5 o'clock. Central Standard time, with Rev. Harry Buck of Second Presbyterian church in charge.

The deceased was a faithful member of Second Presbyterian church and a member of the Men's Bible Class of that Sunday school. Burial was made in Greenlawn.

Mrs. Eva Milner

Death at 6:15 Wednesday evening claimed Mrs. Eva Milner, widow of the late J. W. Milner of August 1911, the final summons coming to her at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Buchanan, 1717 Eleventh street, after a six months illness of infirmities. The deceased was about 67 years of age, and came to this city about six months ago to make her home with Dr. and Mrs. Buchanan.

Most of her life was spent in Augusta and at Deltel, O., across the river from Augusta. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. E. O. Buchanan, and two sons, Edgar Milner, of Augusta, and Dr. W. L. Milner, Cincinnati.

The remains will be taken to Augusta and then to Deltel Friday for interment.

Ruth Elizabeth Cooper

The shadow of death darkened the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cooper, 1823 Eighth street, when their twelve year old daughter, Ruth Elizabeth Cooper succumbed to rheumatism and heart trouble, after a two weeks' illness. She was a student of Union street school being in the seventh grade the last school year a pupil of Miss Catherine Williams.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 24.—Specialties as featured by chemicals, sugar and tobacco issues were firm to strong at the outset of today's stock market session. Shipments and equipments also hardened, but oils were again irregular on further selling of middle, eastern and Royal Dutch. Representations and rails manifested no definite tendencies, recording only minor gains or losses. Early quotations for exchange on London were easier.

The market took a definite upward turn with the first hour, equipping effect today on the corn market. Opening quotations, which ranged from 11 to 12, with July 180 1/2 to 180 1/4 and September 170 to 170 1/4, were followed by a moderate further setback, and then something of a rally.

Oats were easier with corn. After opening at quarter 22 1/2 cents steady decline to the advance, including September at 53 1/2 to 55 1/2, the market showed a tendency to move below yesterday's finish. Provisions reflected the weakness of grain. Pork though, was relatively firm, as compared with hams and ribs.

The close was nervous, 23 to 45 cents, net lower, with July 170 1/2 to 177 and Sept. 167 1/2 to 167 1/4.

QUALITIES NOT RECKONED

LITTLE or big, they are just alike, each filled with the lust for growth. That is villages and cities, we mean, wherefore New York is like unto Ironton, chagrined over the figures given her in the census tables and has started a count of over a hundred wards to show the government count is wrong.

Yes, bigness is the one thought and desire of every American municipality and under the plaint of an erroneous enumeration do they seek to hide the chagrin to their wounded vanity, when the population falls far short of boast.

It is not likely, at all, that there is any place seriously undercounted since census takers are paid in part by piece work so much for each enumeration, and they would scroun them selves out of remuneration.

Continuing growth is an admirable thing to be desired, since it is indicative of alertness and progressiveness, but it is not the sole thing to be sought by town or city. There are things better, far above. So while Ironton and New York may feel keenly disappointed they have fallen behind in relative increase of inhabitants and their ratio of growth having reached its apex is now declining, they need not feel there is nothing else worth while to strive for. They could favor themselves to higher purpose and serve the world better by making themselves respectively the best, the brightest, the cleanest town and city to live in. In perhaps, in this effort they might find the broad high way to that greater material progress for which each longs.

With no desire to be unneighborly it can be said that to the outsider Ironton could most profitably turn into this course. She has too many clashing factions and gangs, indulges too freely in wrangling and contention within herself, nourishes and feeds upon too many petty jealousies and rivalries, she lacks in community friendliness and gives the impression to the outside and, possibly to the inside, that she is not as pleasant a place in which to abide as she might easily be.

TURNING ON THE GUFF

TIME immediately preceding a national convention of either of the great parties always brings in confusion and rising interest, and to minister to the latter and being unable to pick up anything seriously worth while, the diligent and enterprising special correspondent sets himself to weaving into a sensational story floating about that may have entertainment in it.

In this they not infrequently perpetrate some highly humorous matter. Take as illustration the telegrams of yesterday, from San Francisco, which narrated that all other matters of possible class and issue had lost hue and countenance over the fight for prohibition, the drys would have the majority on the resolutions committee, but no matter which way that went the embattled factions already had their heaviest champions selected and equipped for the fight in the convention proper, with the outcome most decidedly uncertain.

Now isn't that funny, excruciatingly merry, for the Democracy once winning a presidential election because a person called it at the opportune time and in the proper presence "the rum party" and always denounced and derided as liquor's friend and support becoming the last golden and glowing hope of the Anti-Saloon league, which doesn't seem to be able to grasp the fact that it has already won a decisive victory and has the hosts of Demon Rum on such a fast run that they will not be able to stop for a generation!

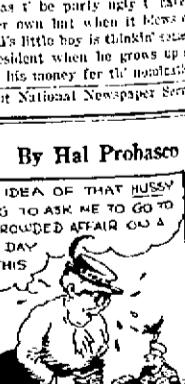

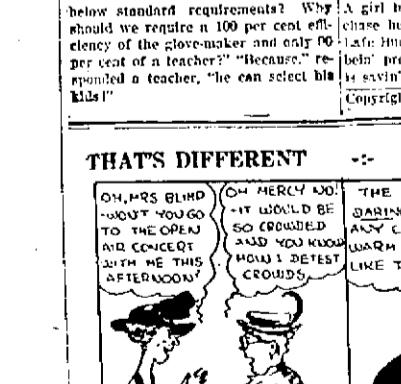

It is scarce possible that in this chaff there is a grain to beed extirpation on the one hand or alarm on the other. Prohibition, right now, bears a strong resemblance to the old fashioned blunderbuss, that was said to sometimes kill in front and always keel over in the rear, and the Democrats are altogether likely to imitate the Republicans, at Chicago, close their eyes and pretend they never saw it.

Here's a chance for William Jennings to say who shall not be nominated. The third partyites of Nebraska have endorsed Hiram Johnson, Bob LaFollette and Bill Bryan for president, he ought to be able to put an embargo on the last if not the least.

Ed Moore, Cox's campaign manager, can always be relied upon to say something with the bark on it. Apropos of the attack upon the Governor by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, as a wet candidate, he disposed of it with the remark: "Wheeler is a Republican politician kicked out of the Chicago convention, devising a pretext for supporting Harding."

The county commissioners have an ambitious road program for 1920 and if they can get hold of the money and the labor 1921 will dawn with the highways of Scioto county in better shape than they have ever been. Certainly they can not make every improvement besought and the main arteries will receive their first attention. Minor improvements will come in time.

Harding is to be notified of his nomination on July 26th. Of course, he will be duly surprised and glad at the great tidings.

BILLY WHISKEY

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

She DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

BY PHILLIS PHILLIPS

LINDSEY AIRS HER VIEWS ON MATRIMONY

Jean confessed to being very much in love with Harvey, also that she had suggested that they have a trial marriage for three months and shocked the poor man most to death. Harvey is Scotch, and rather religious, therefore he would as soon think of dying as allowing Jean to give herself to him without the sanction of the church and Society. So she will have to marry him or leave him, and there you are. What's the use of women becoming broad-minded? Jean says she knows perfectly well that she will not be in love with Harvey forever, so why should she herself be bla forever? And if she falls out of love with him? her conscience would not permit her to go living with him, so it will mean a divorce, and Harvey hates same almost as much as trial marriage. What is a poor girl to do?

After Jean's confession, of course, they wanted my frank feelings on the subject, and although I was in a delightfully dreamy and blissful state of silence, I felt it my duty to contribute to the great thoughts of the evening. I therefore acknowledged that, in some respects my views on the subject corresponded to Jean's—that I, too, felt that I was in love with Jack, problem, and could not be held responsible for the law for my state of mind and heart in relation to my love for him in the future. Furthermore, to be frank, I firmly believed that I was more in love with Love and Romance than with any one individual. Jack happened to happen along just when I was in a sentimental mood and when the love-tug was strong within me—hence our engagement and all that. I was convinced that nineteen was too young for any girl to take the fatal plunge into the unknown sea of matrimony, no matter what the urge.

Of course I went more deeply into my views, such as my not wanting to take charge of marriage and give up all my pet interests, or my work or my freedom, as I knew it now; and to me it was very risky to even dream that one man could make up to a girl for all the things that she renounced when she married him. Oh, we got very much involved in our own peculiarities, all of us; that is, all but Aunt Cecilia. She just lay and looked at the moon, and was very still.

It was just as we were having quite a heated argument about the moral obligations of children, etc., that there was a clangor along the road, and a car stopped near the house. Brave women though we were, we all jumped, and away gave a truly feminine scream!

Two deep, masculine voices were heading for our peaceful little corner, and instinctively we drew back within the shadow of the porch, and Dorry ran for the garden hose!

Then the forum advanced and a voice called tenderly, "Cecile—are you there?" I saw my aunc run down the path and throw herself into the arms of her lover, and we all heard the loud report of a kiss. The other person with him was Harvey. It appears that he had called at my house to find Jean's address and met Jeffery there, who was just starting for home (Jeffery having already yearned for his Cecilia), so they came along together.

Dorry and I went off for a little walk in the moonlight together, feeling very independent and superior to the two couples we left behind us, of course!

J. R. Shepherd and G. W. Daum of Fullerton, left Wednesday for an extended visit to Jacksonville, Fla.

LLOYD GEORGE

The state of Premier Lloyd George's health undoubtedly is causing anxiety to his friends and colleagues in the British government. Those who have seen him recently declare that he has aged in an amazing way, and has lost the peculiar alertness which always had been so striking about him.

The astonishing thing about Lloyd George is that he has stood up so long against a strain of work such as no man has ever been known to face with success, at any rate in the public life of his country.

Ever since he came into office in 1905, his public life has been a succession of the most trying crises and the most stupendous public labors. Fifteen years of such extreme strain could only be borne because one either breaks down or gets injured to such pressure on the mind and nerves, to say nothing of the necessarily sedentary character of the occupation.

Hitherto Lloyd George has shown the needed capacity to detach himself from his work at will and turn from the gravest problems to the lightest entertainment with full relish.

But as his responsibilities, instead of growing easier, are becoming more onerous every day the problems he aims to solve are becoming more insoluble at every fresh attempt, as his political future becomes more obscure the hope of success does not afford the relief required to sustain him, so the wearied effects of impending failure and catastrophe are becoming visible.

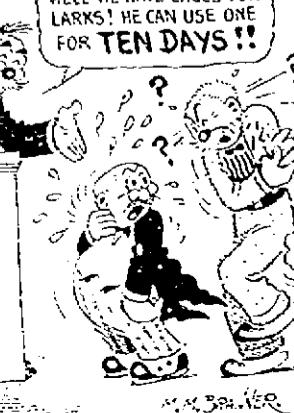

Lloyd George is fifty-seven years old. He is a Welshman.

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. MINTY

NEW YORK, June 24.—The annual encounter of writers entering the field of the Silver Screen would fill volumes. And one moving picture magnificient expressed it with "They may laugh at us but we built up the sixties industry in the country." There is an important theatrical producer who has fingers dabbling in the movies.

Finally there came a day when the producer seemed interested but as usual it was difficult to get him down to anything tangible. He kept delaying things but still held out hope and the writer who was to do the dramatization and continuity could not call him.

A well known novelist came to him recently with the idea of interesting him in a screen version of Edgar Allan Poe's immortal poem "The Raven." He explained that success had been attained by the producers who screened Robert W. Service's "The Shooting of Dan McGrew."

The producer seemed interested but as usual it was difficult to get him down to anything tangible. He kept

NEW YORK DELEGATION MAY LEAD FIGHT FOR WET PLANK

DEMOCRATIC BIG CHIEFS BEGIN TO ARRIVE AT FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Preliminaries to the Democratic national convention got into the inevitable period of hurry and flurry today with the appearance of one after another of the men who are to play leading parts in the big quadrennial drama.

In the whisperings behind the scenes, the question of the party's policy toward bone dry prohibition continued the big theme of agitation, with prospects for a fight on the convention floor growing better and better. Arriving leaders and delegates added some impetus to the discussion of presidential candidates, but that subject still remained well in the background.

Two figures newly arrived on the scene attracted particular attention. The was Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, fresh from Washington and generally reported to have brought President Wilson's own draft of the platform.

The other was Charles F. Murphy of New York, the leader of Tammany Hall, who came direct from the wildcats' conference of old line party strategists at French Lick, Ind.

Both of them were as busy as beavers but as silent and easy as mice. Privately, they took care to stock up the situation and conferred earnestly with other leaders from far and wide. Publicly, they refused to talk politics, outline what they hoped to accomplish or predict what the convention finally would bring forth.

Mr. Murphy was the new center of speculation on the subject of prohibition. The declaration of the New York state convention for repeal of the eighteenth amendment and widely circulated reports of the patching up of an anti-bone dry plan at French Lick, helped to bolster the impression among many delegates that Tammany would lead in the effort to write such a plank into the platform.

Not only is Tammany chief, but all of its lieutenants refuse steadfastly to discuss the subject or to say whether any anti-prohibition movement really had been launched at the French Lick conference. Thomas Taggart of Indiana, another principal in the conference was expected to arrive late today or early tomorrow but it generally was predicted that the lines of division on the prohibition issue would not develop fully until the convention actually gets under way on Monday.

The element which tended to keep the problem in flux was the uncertainty of many in regard to the position of President Wilson. The Virginia state platform, which has been given the president's unqualified approval and on which the national platform is expected to be modelled is silent on the subject. Some of Mr. Wilson's closest political friends in the administration however are known to have finalized a liberalization plank for which they are ready to make a fight at the convention.

The plank said to have been drafted after conferences in Washington among men high in the party councils, does not mention beer or wines by name, but make a blanket declaration for more liberal interpretation by Congress of the prohibition amendment. It is expected that a strong effort will be made by speakers of the proposal to throw the influence of the administration behind it.

None of the party leaders including Senator S. Cummings, the national chairman, reiterated confidence that the other platform plank would lead to a fight on the convention floor. The cause of nations declaration, as framed by administration supporters, was declared by these leaders to be certain of acceptance after only a small number in the platform committee.

Senator Glass first convened after his arrival here late yesterday was with Chairman Cummings. They had dinner together in the chairman's hotel room and afterward spent most of the evening in consultation.

William Jennings Bryan who is expected to lead the attack on such a treaty plank as well as the fight against a prohibition liberalization declaration still was missing today from the constellation of leaders here.

He will arrive late in the week and no one here pretended to know exactly what plan of campaign he may contemplate.

Word of Mr. Bryan's announcement at Helena, Mont., last night that he would support Senator Walsh, of that state for permanent chairman of the convention came as a surprise to most of the party chiefs here and started speculation as to how far the Nebraskan might go in an effort to overturn the plans of the administration forces.

Secretary Colby, of the state department, Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, and Chairman Cummings have been mentioned by administration supporters for the permanent chairmanship but it was said today there had been no decision.

The suggestion that Mr. Cummings, who will be temporary chairman, be continued as presiding officer, was put forward today as a means of shortening the convention proceedings by dispensing with the formalities of a second and convention organization. Mr. Cummings said, however, that personally he did not favor the plan and hoped some one else would be given the permanent chairmanship.

Physical preparations at the convention hall were completed with the installation of a system of electrical megaphones to carry the voices of speakers out in the corners of the big enclosure. Installation of the paraphernalia started a report that President Wilson expected to address the delegates by long distance telephone. But Chairman Cummings said if there were any such intention he was not aware of it.

One hitch in the arrangement requiring to be eliminated had to do with the sending of state delegations, which exceed in number the national committee's allotment. In several states two or three times the allotted number of delegates were selected, with the intention that each should have a fraction of a vote. Convention officials say every effort would be made to arrange for seats for all such delegates, though some of them might have to sit in the visitors' section.

Fix Date For Outing

Monday, July 5, is the date set for a grand picnic to be held by St. Peter's Church in Glen's Grove, opposite St. Peter's church, Wheelersburg. There will be music, dancing and refreshments.

Back From Visit

Custodian Dyke of the Elks' Club has returned from a visit to old friends in West Virginia.

To Hold Picnic

A Fourth of July picnic will be held Saturday, July 3, at Chest Taylor's Woods, on canal pike, two miles from the mouth of Bear Creek and one mile from Coopersville. Platform dancing will feature the day. The picnic will be managed by Edward Taggart.

Hiram Johnson Says People Shall Eventually Rule

SACRAMENTO, CAL., June 24.—Speaking publicly for the first time since the Republican convention in Chicago, Senator Hiram W. Johnson today told a few hundred of his home town people who greeted him at the Southern Pacific depot that he was not downcast over the result.

Senator Johnson was en route to his home in San Francisco. In response to the enthusiastic reception given him and the cries of "speech," Senator Johnson told the crowd how glad he was that California, and particularly his home city, had given him such a big vote at the primary presidential election.

"Don't imagine I'm cast down by the result of the convention," he said. "I'm happier than ever before. I started the campaign on a shoe string and when I got through I had the people of the United States with me, even though I could not win the majority of the delegations."

"I went into the fight in one fashion and came out in the same fashion. I made no compromises, but fought to the last ditch."

"It doesn't make any difference if a few politicians sitting in the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago say: 'The people be damned' for the time is coming when the people will come into their own."

"The future will find me as good natured and as full of fight as ever, and determined that in time to come the people shall rule instead of a few men and international bankers sitting in New York."

Makes Hiram's Note Public

LINCOLN, NEB., June 24.—Frank Harrison, of Lincoln, manager for Senator Johnson's Nebraska Preferential campaign who recently charged that

"treachery and desertion of delegates from instruction broke the heart of the Johnson movement," today made regular on further selling of middle states and Royal Dutch. Representative stocks and rails manifested no definite tendencies, recording only minor gains or losses. Early quotations for exchange on London were easier,

he said, "broke faith at Chicago."

Senator Johnson said he planned to make this move in every state, "where the crime was done so that the people may be protected. In the future when they express their choice for president."

He added: "To be frank with you, I never doubted that the Nebraska delegation would do, but I knew you were exerting yourself to the utmost to prevent the betrayal."

Edwards Will Not Attend Convention

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 24.—Governor Edward L. Edwards, a member of the Democratic "lifeguards" delegation, announced definitely today that he would not attend the San Francisco convention next week. The governor gave no reason for his action, but it is known that the pressure of state business and other engagements prevented his departure with the other members of the New Jersey delegation last week.

TWO FAMOUS MOVIE ACTRESSES NAMED BY EVELYN NESBIT THAW IN DIVORCE CASE

Ann Lather with two pet pigs, and Juanita Hansen.

Ann Lather and Juanita Hansen, moving picture actresses, have been named corespondents by Mrs. Florence N. Montani, the former Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, in her counter-suit for divorce against her husband and former dancing partner, Virgil Joseph Montani. The answer sets forth that the Montanis were married May 23, 1916, at Ellicott City, Md. They have no children.

Montani's suit against Evelyn was started three months ago.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 24.—Six members of the Ohio delegation to the Democratic national convention at San Francisco, sustained cuts and bruises last night when an electric car on which they were returning from Salt Lake resort, was wrecked.

Miss Aileen Simmons, of Sydney, Ohio, was the most seriously hurt and she was taken aboard the special train which brought the visitors to Salt Lake. She sustained cuts about the lower part of her body. The injuries of the other five were negligible. There were 200 passengers in the wrecked car.

QUALITIES NOT RECKONED

ITTELM or big, they are just alike, each filled with the lust for growth. That is villages and cities, we mean, wherefore New York is like unto Ironton, chagrined over the figures given her in the census tables and has started a count of over a hundred wards to show the government count is wrong.

Yes, bigness is the one thought and desire of every American municipality and under the plumb of an erroneous enumeration they seek to hide the chagrin to their wounded vanity, when the population falls far short of boast.

It is not likely, at all, that there is any place seriously underrated since census takers are paid in part by piece work, so much for each enumeration, and they would seem to count themselves out of remuneration.

Continuing growth is an admirable thing to be desired, since it is indicative of alertness and progressiveness, but it is not the sole thing to be sought by town or city. There are things better, far above. So while Ironton and New York may feel keenly disappointed if they have fallen behind in relative increase of inhabitants and their ratio of growth having reached its apex is now declining, they need not feel there is nothing else worth while to strive for. They could favor themselves to higher purpose and serve the world better by making themselves respectively the best, the brightest, the cleanest town and city to live in. Perhaps, in this effort they might find the broad high way to that greater material progress for which each longs.

With no desire to be unneighborly it can be said that to the consider Ironton could most profitably turn into this course. She has too many clashing factions and gangs, indulges too freely in wrangling and contention within herself, nourishes and feeds upon too many petty jealousies and rivalries, she lacks in community friendliness and gives the impression to the outside and, possibly to the inside, that she is not as pleasant a place in which to abide as she might easily be.

TURNING ON THE GUFF

THE immediately preceding a national convention of either of the great parties always brings on confusion and rising interest and to minister to the latter and being unable to pick up anything seriously worth while, the diligent and enterprising special correspondent sets himself to weaving into a sensation any bit of gossip floating about that may have entertainment in it.

In this they not infrequently perpetrate some highly humorous tale. Take as illustration the telegrams of yesterday, from San Francisco, which narrated that all other matters of possible class and issue had lost him and contented her over the fight for prohibition, the drys would have the majority on the resolutions committee, but no matter which way that went the embattled factions already had their heaviest champions selected and equipped for the fight in the convention proper, with the outcome most decidedly uncertain.

Now isn't that funny, exuberantly merry, for the Democracy once winning a presidential election because parson called it at the opportune time and in the proper presence "the rum party" and always denounced and derided as liquor's friend and support becoming the last golden and glowing hope of the Anti-Saloon league, which doesn't seem to be able to grasp the fact that it has already won a decisive victory and has the hosts of Demon Rum on such a fast run that they will not be able to stop for a generation?

It is scarce possible that in this cluff there is a grain to breed exultation on the one hand or alarm on the other. Prohibition, right now, bears a strong resemblance to the old fashioned blunderbuss, that was said to sometimes kill in front and always kill over in the rear, and the Democrats are altogether likely to imitate the Republicans, at Chicago, close their eyes and pretend they never saw it.

Here's a chance for William Jennings to say who shall not be nominated. The third partisans of Nebraska have endorsed him. Johnson, Bob LaFollette and Bill Bryan for president. He might be able to put an embargo on the last if not the least.

Ed Moore, Cox's campaign manager, can always be relied upon to say something with the back on it. Apropos of the attack upon the Governor by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, as a wet candidate, he disposed of it with the remark: "Wheeler is a Republican politician kicked out of the Chicago convention, devising a pretext for supporting Harding."

The county commissioners have an ambitious road program for 1920 and if they can get hold of the money and the labor 1921 will dawn with the highways of Scioto county in better shape than they have ever been. Certainly they can not make every improvement sought and the main arteries will receive their first attention. Minor improvements will come in time.

He'll Be A Mud Lark In A Minute

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Billy was a sturdy fellow, possessed with the people who live there of a certain grim sense of humor, the muted: "are they lunatics? or so when the boys had the rope tied they close the curtains, shut the door around his neck in a seemingly gloomy sunshine and then light the gas at least fragment manner he lowered his three o'clock in the afternoon? And head and trotted along at a steady trot like a long tunnel like, cut-gait, choosing all the rough scrubby bridle passage that extends from the places in the rock, never missing, according to the front door? I believe mad hole, never passing an ash heap; they call it an arched. It is not rare through the one over the other, leading, what do they want it for? I must get nearer and see about it." So Billy walked to the side opening in the door and looked in. The front door of the house was wide open and he could hear the strains of a rambunctious strain within, while the perfume of many flowers was wafted to his nostrils. Not a person in sight.

"How strange," thought Billy. "To leave a front door wide open and no one to watch it! Guess I will walk up and look in." The front door of the house was wide open and he could hear the strains of a rambunctious strain within, while the perfume of many flowers was wafted to his nostrils. Not a person in sight.

"How strange," thought Billy. "To leave a front door wide open and no one to watch it! Guess I will walk up and look in."

For a moment he was silent, and the clerk who stood before him could see that the better nature of his employer was fighting strongly for the right.

"No," said the old man, sternly. "I will not do it. Never have I sold anything by false representations, and I will not begin now."

"Well, I tell you what you do," said the producer. "I'm going away just leaving for the train now—I'll be back day after tomorrow. You make an appointment for me to meet you in my office at 10 o'clock in the morning." Before the amazed novelist could reply, the producer had picked up his bag and was on his way to the door.

"In the chicken yard," the grandmother replied. "You remember the chickens you saw this morning, don't you?"

"Do you mean the ones I fed?"

"Certainly. Well, we killed one of them."

Use for Waste Lands

Every state in the union has some part of the swampy and wet lands that for the entire country have an aggregate area of 102,000,000 acres—larger than Iowa, Illinois and Indiana combined and three-fourths as large as France. The agricultural value of these lands varies considerably, but specialists of the United States department of agriculture believe that large areas, if properly drained and cleared by public or private co-operation, could be transformed into productive farms.

A Great Advantage

The principal of a college was lecturing his staff of teachers upon efficiency. "What?" he demanded, "would we thought of a grocer who at the close of the season found 10 per cent of his stock returned because it fell below standard requirements? Why should we require a 100 per cent efficiency of the grocer—maker and only 90 per cent of a teacher?" Because, responded a teacher, "he can select his kids."
